

Chance for Children

making a difference through the creative arts

Are you able to help us?

We are looking for two new trustees

We have three trustees and are looking for two others to join us. We are particularly keen to attract people who have either business and/or fund raising experience, or who have an understanding of therapeutic work.

We are a small charity based in West London. We provide individual arts therapy sessions for children and young people and support for their families. We also organise art and music groups in schools and early years' settings.
